An Interesting Talk by the New Paster of a Southside Church.

A DEDICATION AT SHADYSIDE.

Rev. D. McAllister Dwells on His Views of Dancing and Its Evils.

OTHER PULPIT TOPICS OF YESTERDAY

Rev. R. S. Tarrant, formerly of Baltimore, has assumed charge of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, on South

Res. R. S. Turrant, lams, of Connecticut, in Trinity Church, Middletown, and ordained priest in Christ Church, East Haven, April 9, 1881. In 1887 he took charge of the Rock Spring congregation and replaced the Church of the Holy Cross, that had been blown away by a blizzard, with a handsome stone edi-fice. In April, 1889, he took charge of the general missionary work in Maryland, with beadquarters in Baltimore, and since that time has built three churches, enlarged four, prevented a foreclosure on another, enlarged two chapels, bought ground to build another, and completely renovated and placed St John's Church on a sound busis. Altogether he has been quite success ut in his work, and in taking charge of St. Mark's hopes to be able to do good work, as there is quite a large field to work in, and he looks forward to building a handsome new edifice before very long. The main trouble has been to secure ground, but St. Mark's Church has a frontage of 120 feet on Sidney and 90 feet on South Eighteenth street, which gives ample room for a fine church. The sermon yesterday morning was on "Alluring Love." The text was from Hoses, ii, 14. The minister spoke of the great love that God had for the people; how how the church had become wicked; how he had visited it with affliction, plague, famine and slavery, and then removed them, to show that His love for His people was great; how, with His alluring love, he brought them to Him in the fulness of divine for-giveness and love. God had his reasons and his own method of bringing out at a time the love for Him held by the children of Israel when he released them from slavery and led them finally to the promised land, fully satisfied of their love for Him.

WHETHER IT WILL PAY.

A Question Asked Often Is Dwelt Upon by Rev. E. R. Donehoo.

During the course of an interesting ser mon last evening on the subject "Will It | begin promptly at 7 o'clock. Pay?" Rev. E. R. Donehoo, taking for his text "What advantage will it be unto thee, and what profit shall I have more than if I had sinned?"-Job. xxxv:3, took occasion

"Will it pay?" That's the question. It is the profit that is to be reasonably expected from an investment which determines our course of action. This matter of personal profit has always been uppermost in men's minds. Duty, right, justice, are too often left out of view, the chief consideration besacrifice which deter so many from entering upon a religious life. Personal advantage: now it blinds our eyes to others' interests. How it benumbs our sensibilities, hardens hearts, absorbs our and leads us to ignore the rights and privileges of our brother man! Society is largely made up of those who pride themselves on their respectability, their high sense of honor, their liberality and morality; men who are entirely willing to have their wives, and sisters, and daughters bestow attention on religious matters, but who persist in ignoring all such claims, simply because they cannot figure out how it will pay them to honor and serve the Higher considerations should influence us than mere personal advantage. God did not place us in this world merely to spend our time looking after our own comfort and pleasure. The man who connects himself with a church in the hope that he will thereby promote his own selfish ends utterly misconceives the spirit and aims of religion and is doomed to disappointment.

DANCING AND CARDS.

Rev. McAllister Says They Are Directly Opposed to Christianity.

Rev. David McAllister vesterday afternoon preached the last of his series of sermons to young people in the Eighth Street Reformed Presbyterian Church. His subject was, "May Christians Dance and Play Cards?" In opening he stated that he would like to spend an afternoon on each of these subjects, but found it necessary to take them up together. "In speaking against dancing," said he,

"let it be understood I sm not an opponent of physical exercise. People can get exercise by moving about on a floor, but danc-ing is not done for that purpose. We must draw a distinct line between the world and the church. Christians are called away from the world, and must drop those pleasures which are distinctly worldly. I have spoken previously of the theater as one of the worldly amusements. The dance is equally so. It is directly opposed to Christiunity, in that it does not produce a state of mind in harmony with divine things. Who-ever heard of a person who felt like pray-ing after coming from the dance hall?

"Daucing is grateful to the carnal nature and wars with the spiritual. Of course, there are some pure-minded ladies who dance, but I imagine their numbers are few in fashionable gatherings where the chief charm seems to be the exposure of the female person. Accounts of such affairs are taken up largely with descriptions of corsages cut low. One great objection to card blaying is that the shuffling, dealing and manipulations of the pack always bring to mind the picture of gambling places. The very fact that such things are used for gambling purposes makes them dangerous. There are plenty of innocent

ANOTHER CHURCH DEDICATED.

The Shadyside U. P. Congregation Worships in Its New Edifice.

The dedicatory services of the Shadyside United Presbyterian Church, Baum street, near Liberty avenue, were held yesterday. The church was crowded and the exercises were of an interesting character. The morning service commenced at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. J. A. Burnet, Reformed Presbyterian Church, Wilkinsburg, offered prayer and read the scripture lesson. Rev. J. K. Mc-Clurkin, D. D., preached the dedicatory sermon, and Rev. John G. Brown, D. D., offered the dedicatory prayer. Sabbath-school was held at 2 o'clock, and addresses were made by Superintendents Peter Dick, Sixth United Presbyterian Sabbath-school, J. H. Scott, Oakland, U. P. Sabbath school, C. S. BURROWS FOR HARRISON. The Michigan Congressman Says Ben Will

ions Banquet This Evening. The first of the Americus Club orators to arrive was Julius Cæsar Burrows, the Kalaparalyzed the reception committee when he said he wanted to go to church and he was taken to the First Presbyterian, where he heard Dr. Purves preach. In the afternoon he went driving with Captain A. J. Logan, W. H. Keech and Mr. Willock to see the city. Though born in Eric county, Mr. Burrows was never in Pittsburg before, except to pass through on his way to and from Washington. He was very much pleased with the East End, and will spend to-day visiting the iron mills and glass houses. Mr. Burrows said be favored liberal anpropriations for internal improvements, and the proposed Erie Canal will benefit national commerce he will help the scheme. He believes the Mississippi and Ohio rivers should be connected by waterways with the great lakes, as such canals would tend to regulate freight rates on the railroads. He thinks Harrison will be renominated and elected, and the campaign will be waged on a tariff basis. The Democrats in the next House will be compelled to make wool free, knock out the tariff on tin plate and advocate the free and unlimited coinage of silver. The business interests of the country will be disturbed and a rousing Republican victory will follow. It will behard to choke off the new Congressmen who were elected with idiotic ideas to advance, and Mr. Burrows looks for a hilarious time in the next Congress. He claims the Democrats are sure to make serious blunders as they always have in the past. He thinks Crisp is best qualified to be Speaker, but he wonders how the Democrats will suppress the irrepressible Mills. who holds he is entitled to the position. Mr. Burrows adds that the Farmers' Alliance won't cut much of a figure.

The other speakers for the bunquet will strive this morning. A reception will be held at the clubhouse in the afternoon, and between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening at the Monongahela House. The banquet will the Senate, will come very close to it, despite the opposition of the Philadelphia delegation. Pattison is not saying much. ing that of personal advantage. It is the self-denials of religion, the demands for self- but the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the Attorney General are against the bill. Mr. Smiley believes the pressure will be strong enough to make the Democrats take up the measure and vote for it.

Surprised at the Growth. W. H. Keech, after driving over a considerable portion of Pittsburg, yesterday, with Congressman Burrows, said: "I was greatly surprised at the growth of the city. Everywhere we went I saw plenty of new houses. It only shows that business men who don't get around very much have no idea how much the city is expanding."

WEE WILLIE'S WOE

Thought He Would See the World, but Discovered His Mistake. Little Willie Hawkins has learned the folly of decamping from the protection of the parental roof prior to the acquisition of long trousers. When Willie got to be 12 ited the conservatories. There is little to years old he decided the home atmosphere be seen there now save a few fish. The too tame for him, while going to school was a bore he did not propose to endure. So he saved his spending money until he had $20, and last Thursday slipped away from his home in Wilkinsburg, taking a train for New York. He arrived there on Friday and put up at the Occidental Hotel.

The money gave out Saturday and Willie tearfully applied to the hotel clerk to tel egraph home to his father, Robert M. Hawkins. The boy was taken to police headquarters to await the arrival of his father, who has doubtless reached the little truant by this time.

TWO MORE MEN SUSPENDED.

Allegheny Policemen Must Not Gossip or Their Beats.

Superintendent of Police Muth, of Alle gheny, rolled two more heads in the dust yesterday. In sending out the night force he announced the suspension of Officers Charles Schumscher and Phillipi. They are retired for 10 days for talking on their beats and for resting on telegraph poles. The Superintendent said the officers must walk their beats and are not supposed to lean against telegraph and awning poles and talk politics. They were also not allowed to stop and talk to each other while on duty unless it was on matters of business.

Spring Effects a Great Transformation at Schenley Park.

FILLED WITH SUNDAY STRULLERS. Green Trees and Pretty Flowers Add an

Attraction to the Suburbs. GAY SCENES OVER ON THE NORTHSIDE

Sunday strolls in Schenley Park are becoming popular. Yesterday was the first day of the year to bring the knolls and hollows of the romantic old place into much demand. People have been somewhat backward about growing conducted by the Rev. Dr. Whitesides, of the Bethany Home, assisted by the Moor-head Mission. Everybody is more or less foud of the beauties of wild country, but the plain, prosy populace finds it pleasanter to have a comfortable seat There are some rough hills to climb in Schenley Park and Superintendent Mc-Knight has not yet made enough of his smooth walks to reach all of the desirable points with ease. Another drawback to the park has been the fact that people mazoo Congressman, who got here who have never been there, as well as some who have, do not know where to find it. the Monongahela House. He fairly The uninitiated pedestrian will like as not who have never been there, as well as some The uninitiated pedestrian will like as not clamber up half a dozen hills and get himself all dusty and ill-humored before he learns he has crossed the invisible line between Schenley Park and the rest of the world.

Worth Much More Than the Trouble But the attractions of the big baby park more than make up for the puffing and blowing required to reach it. Hundreds of people evidently realized this yesterday afternoon and evening. Those who went had no reason to complain. Spring has made a wonderful transformation in Mrs. Schenley's gift. A dozen bare hills have been beautified by a generous coat of soft green. Tree and shrub have been rounded off with nature's trimmings. Ravines and hollows, looking rough and uninviting heretofore have become leafy bowers. Little streams, running here and there between the hills, sparkle brightly under the overhanging clouds of verdure. These cool retreats look inviting enough to attract the most fastidious, and they did so yesterday.

The beauty of the new park has been greatly enhanced in the past lew days by the sudden springing up of myriads of wild flowers. Pretty green mounds are sotted all over with millions of tiny spring beauties, blue and vel-low violets, dandelions, trilliums and a score of other harbingers of the season of flowers. The groves are full of dogwood and wild crab trees, covered with their white and pink mantles. Flowers were everywhere vesterday. Every passing carriage was gaily decorated with blossoms, while promenaders old and young carried their arms full of them.

Well Supplied With Driveways.

Chief Bigelow's people have succeeded in getting the big park well traversed with roads. They circle around the wooded hills in unexpected turns and windings but with few steep grades. The occupant of a carriage at one place gets a wide view of beautiful, rolling country, and a few rods ahead is shut in by overhanging trees. People in vehicles were by far the most numerous in the park yesterday, and the new drives were filled with them. Horse fanciers do not fancy the park, and will not until the promised half-mile track is made. The winding roads are not good for speeding thoroughbreds, and consequently most of the turnouts were family carriages filled with laughing children.

In spite of the wildness of the place, hun-dreds of people ran the risk of spoiling shees and sliding down steep hills and visited the park on foot yesterday. The soothing effect of the last-of-April sunshine makes people think a little less of roughing it, and the prospect of a breath of pure country air overbalanced all inconveniences. Schenley Park was not the only attractive spot to the people yesterday. All the East End streets and avenues look fresh and green with their rows of newly-decked trees. They make pleasant promenades, and were filled with gay people all day. The smooth avenues were also well patronized by the owners of good horses, and half the people of Pittsburg seemed to be out driving. Highland Fark Well Patronized. The artificial beauties of Highland Park got their share of attention from the people, and the place was well filled all the afternoon. Allegheny Cemetery, with its beau-tiful walks and shrubbery in all its newly-made loveliness, proved no less attractive than other favorite resorts. There were very few funerals to cast a gloom over the spirits of the people.

Pittsburgers can find a pretty landscape and suburbs are worth looking at, Hazle-wood and Glenwood have donned their warm weather dress, and spring has quietly covered the last trace of winter. In all di rections the eye is greeted with fruit trees laden with fragrant bloom—a silent proture's smile seems contagious, and the crowds of people who thronged suburban thoroughfares all looked happy.

A surprisingly large number of people were apparently satisfied to get the sunshine econd-handed from the red walls of sixstory buildings. Though parks were crowded, the down-town streets were far from deserted. Churches reaped great ben-eft from the pretty day, and big audiences attended both morning and evening ses-sions. Taken altogether the day was one of the most perfect or this springtime. The sky was cloudless and the air just warm enough to make out-door existence comfortable and cheering.

Another Beautitul Spring Day. The temperature at 8 a, M. was 46°; at noon, 61°, and at 8 p. M., 64°. The maximum was 69°, reached about 3 p. M.

The Allegheny parks were again crowded yesterday and last night. The leaves are all partially out, and the trees now create a semblance of a shade. Every walk was filled with people, but only a few vis-ited the conservatories. There is little to stretches of green grass were the most beauan unusually brilliant green spotted all over with dandelious. The dandelions were the primary cause of another adornment in the shape of pretty children who forgot all the rules and ran wild over the grass picking the golden beauties. Another remarkable fact is that even this early in the spring the grass is long enough to be cut. There are a few peach trees in the park and it was with the utmost difficulty that the police could

Besides the parks all of the roads leading out of Allegheny were crowded all day and each person returning carried bunches of wild flowers or sprigs covered with fruit

The meetings, both of which will be held in the evening, will be addressed by several prominent speakers. The meeting on the Southside will be held at Turner Hall. Bishop Phelan and W. J. Brennen, Esq., will deliver the English addresses, and John Cuk and Joseph Rosinsky, the Polish. The Pittsburg meeting will be held at the Polish school, Twenty-second street. ## THE CHURCHES CALLED SINNERS.

Sons of Temperance Demand That They Should Fight Licenses.

The chief point at the meeting of the Sons of Temperance, at 25 Federal street, Allegheny, last night, was an attack on the churches for their position on the license question. Speeches were made by W. Zeigler, M. Donoghy, L. Mooney and others and the stand taken that the churches should oppose license throughout. The order will endeavor to carry this fight into the church. G. A. Knapp, a Texas member of the order, will speak on this question next Sunday night.

The W. C. T. U. No. 2 met at Second avenue and Grant street last night and was addressed by F. Parsons, Mrs. R. H. Jones, William Shreibed, R. C. Rishard and Free Fink. The speakers at the "Little Jim" Church meeting, in Allegheny, last night were Robert Yates, William Powell, Robert Caskey, Gilbert McMasters and Mr. Turner.
